

*B*ethpage State Park is lovingly referred to as the “People’s Country Club.” The crown jewel of the facility, the legendary Black Course, designed by A. W. Tillinghast, opened in 1936. The Black served as site of the 2002 and 2009 U. S. Open Championships, the 2012 and 2016 Barclays Tournament and the 2019 PGA Championship and in 2025, Bethpage Black will host the Ryder Cup. Nationally ranked as one of the Top 10 Public Courses, it has a reputation as one of the most challenging and rewarding courses to play in the world – and is guaranteed to make your outing event a triumph.

Bethpage offers a number of accommodations built to suit your tournament, corporate golf outing or charitable event. Our golf professionals, outing staff and on-site catering through The Heritage Club at Bethpage are pleased to provide tournament administration and customized events.

Please find the following included in this package: information on pricing, procedures, inclusive services, as well as a draft agreement.

To schedule your event on the Black Course, please contact Scott Matson, Director, Bethpage State Park, at 631.962.0220 or through email at Scott.Matson@parks.ny.gov.
