OPEN GARDEN DAYS AT THE JAY GARDENS

The spectacular new Jay Gardens are open to the public every week in July at the following times: Sundays, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. • Thursdays, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Closed July 3rd.
No reservations necessary.

Overlooking Long Island Sound, the 23-acre Jay Estate was once the land of the Lenape before it became the family seat of nation-maker John Jay, who helped abolish slavery in New York State. Today the Jay Estate is a home for ideas, civil dialogue, and action about social and environmental justice and much more. Operated by the nonprofit Jay Heritage Center (JHC) for the benefit of the public, the land—particularly its stunning viewshed—gives context to the stories of its diverse inhabitants and stewards going back thousands of years. In the spring the gardens were named one of New York Cottages and Gardens magazine’s “Home-Grown Beauties.”

Stop by any time for docent-led tours or a stroll through on your own! For volunteer opportunities please email Lucia at hortdirector.jhc@gmail.com.

In the Key of C: a Concert for Clermont Featuring special guest Danielia Cotton

Support Friends of Clermont and enjoy an evening of music by the river! Danielia Cotton is no stranger to reinventing herself. Growing up in Hopewell, NJ, Danielia was raised on a steady diet of classic rock behemoths like AC/DC, Led Zeppelin and the Rolling Stones. Her exposure to other genres was limited until the age of 12, when her mother gifted her a guitar and she began singing in the choir. This was the zenith of Danielia’s journey into music; one from which she would never look back, developing a warm appreciation for Jazz, Gospel and beyond. Danielia took no shortcuts, as her single mother stressed education and supported her attending Bennington College. She was one of the first of three generations in her family to attend college. After graduating she eventually found herself relocating to New York City, where she began her professional musical journey. With a powerful first album that launched her career, “Small White Town,” Danielia was selected as “Artist to Watch” by WXPN out of Philadelphia. Danielia’s personal life is just as varied as the genres explored in her music, embracing a variety of religions as “JewBu” (a Jewish Buddhist), a cancer survivor and a woman who today channels her struggles within her gritty, Motown-steeped music. Now a mother of a three-year old daughter and training for her 6th cancer marathon, Danielia uses her gritty rock ‘n’ roll music to confront the social, political, and racial turmoil of the past and looks to grander, grounded possibilities in the future. Her new album Good Day is out now.
Tickets are $10/advance and $15/door. Children 12 and under are welcomed free of charge. The concert will take place under a tent outdoors and seating will be provided. To purchase tickets, visit www.friendsofclermont.org/concertforclermont

Drumming Circle at East Gate Plaza.

Drumming Circle will be coming to the East Gate Plaza on July 10th from 11 AM to 1 PM. The quality of the music produced in a drumming circle is not based on the rhythmical expertise of the players, but on the quality of their relationship with the other people in the circle. The result is those magical musical moments where one powerful voice is created out of the many. In those moments, the players stop worrying about keeping time because time, as they know it, has stopped. In its place is a living breathing entity, expressing timeless joy, passion and release through the power of rhythm.

I was born and raised in the central part of Ireland. The town I spent most of my life in was Ballinasloe or Beal atha na Sluaigh - in the Irish Language the translation is Mouth of the ford of Hosting’s. The settlement of the town goes back to the bronze age but it was officially founded in the 13th century. Nearby, Clonmacnoise is one of the oldest monastic settlements in Ireland founded in 544. Being located in the geographical center of Ireland at an important river crossing this small agricultural town was an important meeting place before the advent of modern transportation. To this day the annual week-long October Fair is the oldest Agricultural and Horse fair still in existence in Europe being almost 300 years old.

My parents and younger sister and brother all live in Ireland. We were an active family and we grew up being heavily involved in sports. In high school I competed in Track, Rugby and Hurling. Hurling is the national sport of Ireland. It is a very ancient sport and in its modern form is considered the fastest field game in the world.

After High School I went to college in Waterford Ireland. Then I moved to England and lived in London and Coventry (Shakespeare Country in central England). After a brief return to Ireland, I immigrated to the USA in 1993. I was following a long line of my grandfather’s and father’s siblings who also moved to the US, so I have a large extended family here.

I travelled to Kenya, Tanzania and the island of Zanzibar many years ago and climbed Mt Kilimanjaro as a fundraiser for an organization providing health and education services in the hinterland of Mt Kilimanjaro.

I have been involved in the outdoors my whole life having trained in Outdoor Education and participated in many outdoor activities. Skiing at the winter park and getting to know Paul Kuznia (Kooz) led to my first job in parks. Thanks to the opportunity given to me by Kooz it has turned into a great career move and one of the best decisions of my life.

At Fahnestock I am the Assistant Park Manager with primary responsibility for running this 15000-acre park. Along with hiking and MTB trails we have the beach and campground and, in the winter, we have Fahnestock Winter Park. It is the only full service fully groomed XC ski area in NY State South of the Adirondacks.

I am proud of the fact that in conjunction with park manager Evan Thompson we have worked hard to bring many improvements and changes to Fahnestock and Hudson Highlands. I am particularly proud of the improvements to the Beach, Campground and Ski Area which have improved the visitor experience.

A new playground, campground bathhouse and improvement to the beach and picnic area are in the future plans for Fahnestock. We are also making continuous improvements to the Ski trails and are awaiting the delivery of a new snowmobile for grooming.
