

The Natural Environment

Lake Taghkanic State Park encompasses 1,568 acres of pristine wilderness in New York State's Hudson Valley Region. Here you will find many species of flora and fauna that are indigenous to this climate. Elevations within the park range from 500 feet to 930 feet at some of the higher northern ridges. Appalachian oak, hickory, maple, cedar, and hemlock are commonly found throughout the park with spruce and white birch found on the northern slopes. Mammals found in the park include deer, coyotes, beaver, rabbits, squirrels, and raccoons.

The lake is 156 acres, with a maximum depth of 42 feet. Fish in the lake include large and small mouth bass, pickerel, brown bullhead, blue gill, and rock bass.

Directions:

Lake Taghkanic State Park is located off of the Taconic State Parkway, one mile south of the Hudson/Ancram Exit (Rt. 82).

Trucks, trailers, and cars can alternately access the Park off of State Route 82, approximately 2 miles south of West Taghkanic.

History

The park was donated to the State of New York in 1929 by Dr. McRa Livingston with the provision that the lake and park be named Lake Taghkanic. The lake had been previously known as Lake Charlott. In 1933 a Civilian Conservation Corp (CCC) camp was established at the park. C.C.C. projects in the park included construction of the East Bathhouse, the East Beach, the camping and cabin areas and the water tower.

Special features of the park include a tent and small trailer camping area, a cabin & cottage area, a bathing beach, secluded picnic areas, boat rentals, playground areas, a ball field and hiking trails. There is also a picnic pavilion available for rental.

Lake Taghkanic is open year round for day use activities. Overnight camping is available May through October. A daily vehicle use fee is charged seasonally. Winter activities include ice fishing, cross country skiing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, and ice skating.

Park Hours

For general use the park is open daily, year round, from sunrise to sunset, except from Memorial Day to Labor Day. From Memorial Day to Labor Day the Park is open daily from 8am to sunset. Campers must stay within the campground and cottage areas outside of general use hours.

Please don't forget this is a Carry-In Carry-out park. All that you bring in, you must bring out.
